Please describe any benefits or improvements you've noticed:	I've seen significant improvement. Yesterday, I went to my nephew's birthday party, the first family event I've been able to handle in years. I still have some triggers but they don't hijack me like before. Although it's moderately hard for me to fall asleep at a reasonable time, I do sleep through most nights now. My therapist says I'm more open in sessions. It feels like I'm starting to live again.
